Over The Hills

J.R. Trumbull

Quote: "As long as we have memories, yesterday remains. As long as we have hope, tomorrow waits. As long as we have love, today is beautiful. As long as you have God, anything and everything is possible. Amen!"

Message for Heart and Soul

Have you ever considered the importance of stillness? "Be still and know that I am God" means just that. Be still and listen for that still, small, inward voice! Sounds simple but it sure isn't. Remaining still and waiting for the Master's Voice is very difficult. Satan will throw all sorts of distractions your way and do everything he can to get you off track and keep you there. Every possible distracting thought will suddenly float through your mind. Being still in mind and body takes tremendous effort!

"Happiness keeps you sweet. Trials keep you strong. Sorrows Keep you human. Failures keep you humble. Success keeps you glowing, but only God keeps you going."

BE STILL

"Be still my child," the good Lord said
He didn't mean follow my own stubborn head.

"Be still" means to wait for His wise lead,
Not to go off on our own without heed.

"Be still" doesn't mean that you're on the right path,
Doing what you want can bring its own wrath.

"Be still means to wait and to trust,
To be quietly still without any fuss.

It's so hard to be still when all seems right,
Doing your own thing doesn't rely on God's might.

Waiting on God teaches patience they say.
Sometimes that waiting can make a long stay.

"Be quiet and heed My Word" is the heart of it all.
We just have to wait for the Savior's clear call.

His Ways are not ours as He speaks to our heart.
"Be patiently still" and He will tell you where to start.

Between the Lines

Dean Thompson

I will try to put together my allotment of words this week in honor of July Fourth!

Perhaps there will be several instances of repetition in what I write this week. I trust you will forgive me. I also hope that there will be a considerable majority that will agree with my beliefs as stated throughout this collection of words, BUT if you have reasons, or particular points, of disagreement that's OK too, just be sure that you have a well thought out explanation of your opinions that you can peacefully explain to me.

"I" (see paragraph two above. It is a personal thing. I can't make this decision for you, anymore than I could say that 'we' believe in Jesus) "pledge" (a solemn promise or understanding) "allegiance" (loyalty or commitment to an idea or belief) "to the flag" (maybe I should have also placed THE in parentheses because it is a very definitive, descriptive word in this instance and not just any banner or piece of rag although there have been, and 'are' instances when it is treated this way in our own nation today) "of the United States of America" (here again, in my wordy way, I could break this down. THE, again, is very exclusive, there is no other USA in spite of all the abbreviations being bandied around. The word 'United' might come under question today. It 'was' 'United' when that name was placed on our country but it has been questioned, and tested, at various times, and perhaps at no other time than what is known as the 'civil war' - which really stretched the definition of 'civil' - the famous 'Nation Divided' speech by Lincoln was delivered on June 16, 1858, 163 years to the day from when I started to put these words together, and much, much later than when Jesus was credited with these words in Matthew 12: 25). "and to the republic for which it," that flag we talked about, stands, or represents. One, and only ONE, nation, among all the nations of the world, stands, proudly!" "Under God" (this little phrase, so short and yet so essential was not added to the 'Declaration' until June 14, Flag Day, 1954, when Congress, representing 'We the People' placed it there.

"Indivisible" (how powerful do you think this word is? Some where between 620,000 and 750,000 soldiers, and countless civilians died during the 'uncivil' war. There seems to be no accurate breakdown between those fighting for and against 'division'! Abraham Lincoln, in that speech said, "I do not expect the house to fall. But I do expect it to cease to be divided!" It was a long speech before that war but I will continue to pray that his words will still come true). "With Liberty (I only want to say that to me 'liberty means freedom' and it has come to be tossed around, quoted and misquoted until it's hard to pin it down. Let me quote two short and relevant phrases from the Bible, "I am the truth" John 14 and "If the truth shall make you free you shall be free indeed" John 8. These should answer any question about truth. The problem seems to be that we look in the last place for not only the best answers but the only answers) and "justice" (another word that is often seen as different for different people so we might be able solve our problem by adding the last word) "ALL" (do you, just offhand, know of more than one meaning of this word? Nuff said).

And that is just what we call the 'Preamble'. Wouldn't you like the Thompson version of the 'whole' constitution?

When I started to 'kiddy
