Quote: "I can only hope that my achievements in life shall be...that I will have fought for what was right and fair, that I will have risked for that which mattered, that I will have given help to those who were in need, and that I will have left this world a better place for what I've done, who I've been, and how hard I have tried."

Gen Smith

When my days on earth are over, I would hope that it could be said that I loved the Lord, I was a good neighbor and friend, and that I was a good steward of the land and resources entrusted to me.

One sensation that I really love is when you break the pull of gravity when taking off in a plane. It's even better in a small plane. I'm not one who enjoys height. Forget me climbing a windmill tower or even standing on a cliff, but once I am no longer connected to the earth, I am fine.

I wrote this poem shortly after the first flight I took with Darrel Munson. We both had a big grin on our face as we lifted off and broke gravities pull. I am thinking of those friends who have passed on who loved to fly. I hope their "Lift Off Time" was wonderful!

IT'S LIFT OFF TIME!

It's lift off time
And up we will fly,
Up through the clouds
As the earth slides by---

And then I think
That one great day
I'll get to fly
Without a plane in the way---

It's lift off time!
The trumpet sounds!
We are unfettered
From earthly bounds---

It's lift off time!
With raptures delight
We'll see our Savior
And lift off in flight---

Wow! Are you ready?
The choices are clear.
Are you going with Jesus
Or are you gonna stay here?
